The fact that the Australian ballot law in this fall is to be a Democratic measure, cannot be denied.

The Republican press is fighting the Farmers Alliance in the Northern States and whining it prosperously in the South.

The State of New York seems to be practically united in the present campaign, which assures the success of the party.

Gov. CAMPBELL predicts his own re-election by a plurality of 12,000, whereas few expect political success in Ohio than the Governor.

The Globe-Democrat's estimate that McKinley will have a plurality of 100,000 is clearing news, as if the G. D. were seriously alarmed it would predict majority of 200,000.

The Tammany tiger may have very sharp claws, but the Republicans are so long as their claws are used only on the enemies the country can afford to count the beast as a useful blessing.

In Mississippi and several other Southern States it is lawful for whites and blacks to occupy the same coaches on railroads. A test case has been brought to the Supreme Court and the constitutionality of such laws is to be decided, provided the Democratics are equal and the same penalties are applied to both races.

It is significant that Southern Blaine is too sick to make any speech on the subject, but well enough to make several. Northern McKinley seems to be despatched by the leaders of his own party. After the Ohio election, there will be no more talk of the "tiger." His epithet will be that it died of lead caught from Pug's "tin plate."

INDIANAPOLIS, the home of Mr. Harrison, went Democratic last week by a vote of 1,000,000, from 1,500 to 3,000. Voting was by the Australian ballot, and the campaign was a short one. Indiana has therefore been very close between the two parties, and the result this year is a great Democratic victory.

The Democrats over Mr. Blaine thanks for his declaration that the McKinley bill gave no market for agricultural products. That decision telling effect against McKinley in Ohio. Mr. Blaine now tries to soften his statement by laying in redress, but the people have already discerned that in his scheme for securing the other fellow must do all the reparation.

Kansas law, that has been in existence several years, will shortly be brought before the courts, it is said, to test its constitutionality. It is also said from authority, that Mr. Brown has stated the law is unconstitutional, and considers a popular vote of a majority of the people to be the only test in the Governor's only, and not the commissioners. The matter will be decided in the courts.

Gov. Crittenden's report on Oklahoma says that unless the lands on the western border are speedily opened, so that settlers may find a crop next year, it will mean desertion, and the land among the hundreds of settlers who have been for weeks on the borders, and in many instances have been compelled to leave. They are being joined every day in a secure home in the quiet and Fox and adjoining reservations.

The traders, the mob who threatened the negroes, now, at Omaha, are being arrested and jailed on the charge of murder in the first degree. It appears that the negro he intended to commit the outrage is not dead, although so reported in the papers. The lynchers among whom are several of the citizens, the beauty and vigor of whom, and many holding that Ove's crime justified his taking off, whether the negro was dead or not, the law in some States can be with murder as a capital offense.

WASHINGTON politicians are discussing the fall elections with increasing interest every day. The progress of the campaign is encouraging to the Democratics. Victory is regarded as certain in New York, and well nigh assured in Iowa. The campaign is favorable, and in Ohio the campaign is well managed. While the Democratics may lose the government in the Border State they are confident of capturing the Legislature. The prospect is lovely and the public need not be surprised if the returns show another Democratic victory.

COLUMBUS, Forum Oct. 1.
A Professor's Criticisms Criticized.

In the Columbus Forum "selections" from a letter of H. J. B. Harris! on the sub-treasury are published in a manner that shows technical skill in the writer to give a wholly laudable treatment of the subject.

For instance, here is an example of his negative dialogue:

"Harris!—But from the same books all we will learn, in special cases at least, of the sub-treasury, there are form—'Oh yes, Asahel! the army and navy, I suppose, being they are a great expense, and the other expenses are small, and all other expenses are small.'

The People's reasoning is, of course, that we "arm and navy" appropriations are class legislation; therefore, the sub-treasury, intended directly to benefit certain classes of farmers, is no more so, and should be approved.

The Forum endorses all the demands made by the Farmers' Alliances, and the three here named, and is willing to give them a patient, earnest and respectful consideration.

How They Meet the Great Issue.

Speaker Sherman, at Cincinnati, said:

"Let us speak of tariff reform. The Forum has a right to do so, as a State which does not produce the amount of the product of the sub-treasury, and which cannot form a revenue fund which the House can appropriate."

If the Republicans tariff tax can be defended by fact and legitimate argument, it does look like the great Republican leaders, Sherman and Foraker ought to be able to do, and yet the above brief statement shows that in discussing the tariff, even in the most favorable form, a question of taxation, they are driven to the necessity of lugging in such charges as "rebel" and "rebel flag."

If tariff reform is advocated by the Democrats, it may be told that the Government has loaned money, to various expansionists, etc. My answer is, that they are loaning it to the bottom of all our rivers, etc. makes no difference, whether they are or not.

Forasmuch as it is well known that the sub-treasury would tend to establish such conditions and obligations as an argument against it. But, in all truth, the army and navy serve all classes of citizens, black and white.

The dialogue is互相 continuing as follows:

"Harris!—That is true, but the Government has loaned money, to various expansionists, etc. My answer is, that they are loaning it to the bottom of all our rivers, etc. makes no difference, whether they are or not.
